The word 'more' does not imply more returns or assurance of scheme performance. It refers to the additional value provided by the joint venture, as compared to Baroda AMC and BNP Paribas AMC individually.

LARGE CAPS & MID CAPS

Combining Established and Emerging Companies

Baroda
BNP PARIBAS
MUTUAL FUND

Together for more

Combining Established and Emerging Companies

Large Caps

- Long term earnings and growth
- Well researched stocks
- Reasonable valuations
- Consistent performance over market cycles
- Stable & experienced management with larger bandwidth
- Lower Volatility

Mid Caps

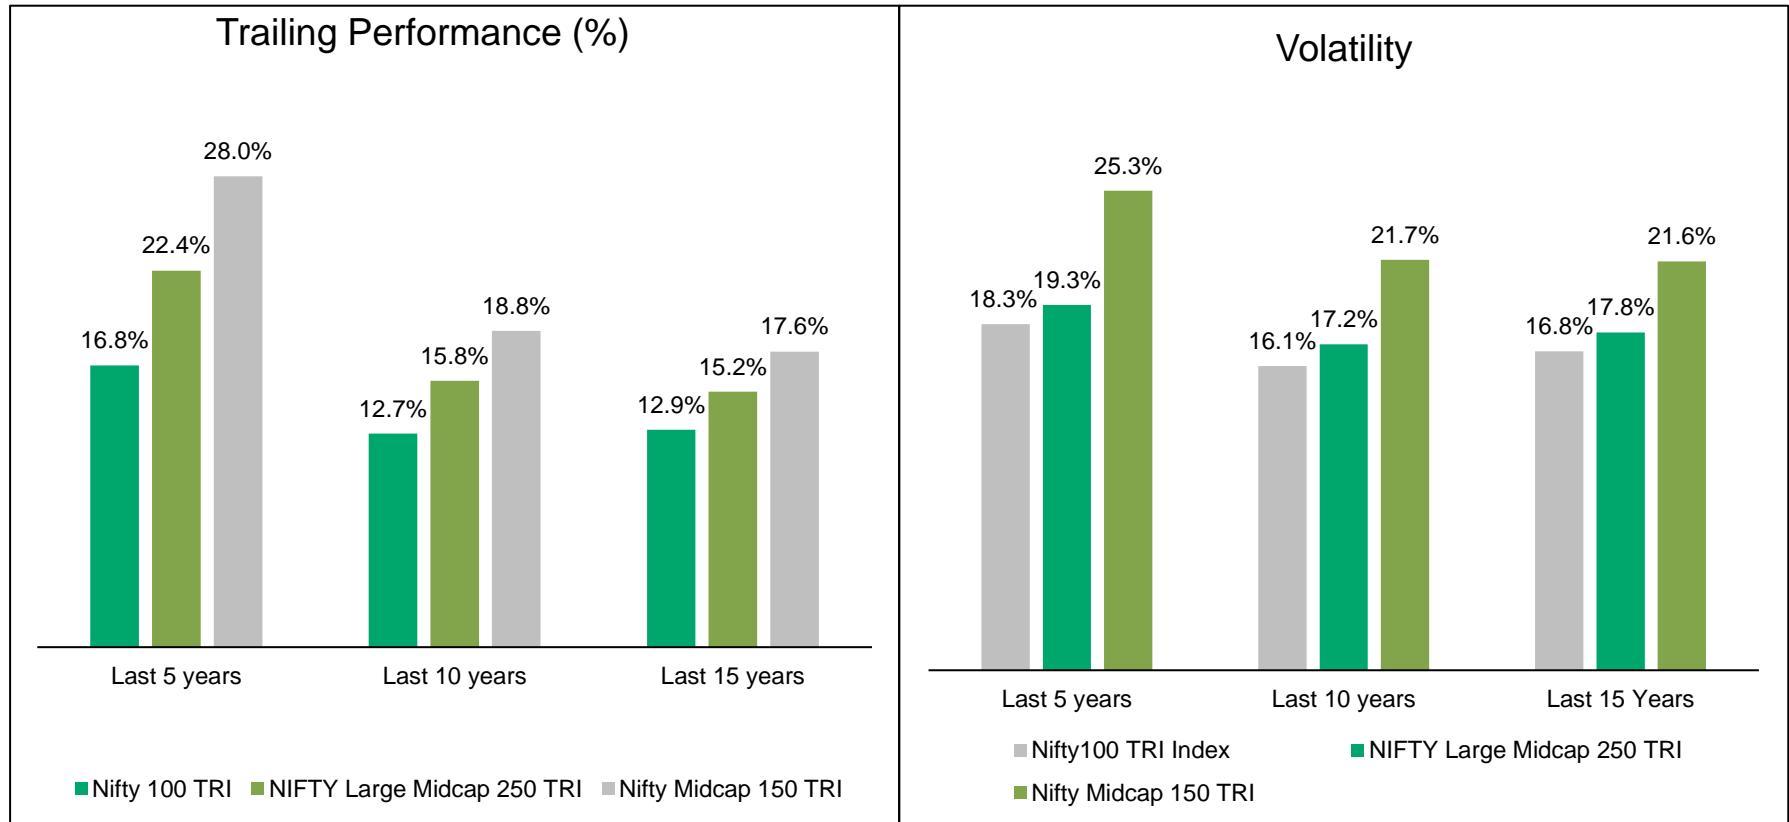

- Provides earnings potential
- Nimble footed companies
- Potential higher rates of growth
- Opportunities to pick leaders in niche markets
- Potential large caps of tomorrow

A combination of Large Caps and Mid Caps aims to provides BOTH Established and Emerging Companies

Large Cap stocks due to their company size, management quality, reputation built over time and relatively stronger balance sheets, are less likely to be affected by volatile market situations, as compared to smaller firms. Mid cap companies are expected to be fast-growing companies but could be volatile in nature. Market Capitalization as per SEBI – Large Cap: 1st – 100th company, Mid Cap: 101st-250th Company and Small Cap: 251st company onwards in terms of full market capitalization.

Large & Mid Cap: Returns with Lower volatility

A Large and Mid Cap Portfolio potentially delivers returns with volatility lower than a mid cap portfolio.

- The market, evidently, moves in phases.
- There are significant phases when the Large Caps do well and significant phases when the Midcaps do well.
- The Large & MidCap Index has always been in the middle – like a Large and MidCap portfolio.
- The ability to switch between Large and Midcap at the “opportune” time would be ideal.
- Therefore, stock selection is key to generating alpha in this section of the market.

CAP STOCKS)

Together for more

The word 'more' does not imply more returns or assurance of scheme performance. It refers to the additional value provided by the joint venture, as compared to Baroda AMC and BNP Paribas AMC individually.

Why Invest in Baroda BNP Paribas Large & Mid Cap Fund

The fund offers an optimal mix – low volatility of Large caps with the potential of growth of Mid cap. Changes in Market cap exposure can be done (within the prescribed limits, as per SID) if a particular sector is doing well or reduced during bad times.

An inbuilt discipline of Market cap allocation - Minimum of 35% in Large Cap Companies & Minimum of 35% in Mid Cap Companies, could help in giving better risk adjusted returns.

The diversity of the investment strategy in the fund aims to garner gains from exposure to Mid caps and could also provide stability through Large caps.

Exposure to Large caps potentially limits the funds' downside and provides less volatility for the investors.

The flexibility to invest across large and mid caps & sectors makes it one of the ideal fund to ride the economic and sectoral cycles.

Large Cap stocks due to their company size, management quality, reputation built over time and relatively stronger balance sheets, are less likely to be affected by volatile market situations, as compared to smaller firms. Mid cap companies are expected to be fast-growing companies but could be volatile in nature. Market Capitalization as per SEBI – Large Cap: 1st – 100th company, Mid Cap: 101st-250th Company and Small Cap: 251st company onwards in terms of full market capitalization.
